A quick guide to the main beer styles:

Lager Fermented and conditioned slowly at low temperatures, it often settles to the bottom of the vessel in a process known as "bottom fermenting". The result is a full bodied, mellow beer that is crisp and refreshing with far less fruit flavours than ale.

Ale This style of beer production has existed for 1000's of years. Fermented at warmer temperatures of between 21-70°C using "top fermenting" yeasts and a short maturation period. Robust, aromatic and fruity in style.

Blonde Ale Typically fermented and aged at ale temperatures, and sometimes filtered or cold stored for a period to enhance clarity. Fresh and crisp with medium-light bitterness and some sweet malty nuances.

IPA IPAs vary greatly but are most often still hoppy with some citrus fruit undertones. Legend says the name "Indian Pale Ale" takes its roots from British Colonial times, where it denoted a style of beer made from pale malt. They were very hoppy with lots of natural preservatives and could withstand long voyages, such as those to India.

Red Ale A bit sweet, with a lightly hopped tea-like flavour, and viscous body. Irish Red Ales are easy to please. Look for well-rounded and balanced flavours, and a pleasant toasted malt character in many examples. A drying finish is common.

Pilsner The Czech Pilsner, or sometimes known as the Bohemian Pilsner, is light straw to golden colour with no sediment. Many believe the city of Pils to be where the first Lager was discovered.

Porter Made with dark malted barley, a good amount of hops, and top-fermenting ale yeasts. The end result is usually a dark medium-bodied beer with a nice balance of malty sweetness and bitter hoppiness.

Stout A dark beer made using roasted malt or roasted barley, hops, water and yeast. Stouts were traditionally the generic term for the strongest or 'stoutest' porters.

IRISH WHISKEYS

Single Pot Still Irish Whiskey - A style of whiskey exclusive to Ireland, distilled using a mash of malted and unmalted barley. It was first created in order to avoid paying a tax imposed by the British monarchy on malted barley however, today, this tradition is preserved in order to produce a wonderfully creamy mouthfeel and spicy, orchard fruit flavour.

Powers Three Swallow Single Pot Still

Bananas, toasty oak, juicy tropical fruits flavours with spices and raisins.

€5.95

Yellow Spot Single Pot Still

Pot still spices, honey and red apple combine with flavours of crème brûlée.

AMERICAN, JAPANESE, TAIWANESE WHISKIES

AMERICAN WHISKEY

Bulleit Bourbon

Dangerously drinkable with classic Bourbon taste characters of spicy oak, sweet fruits, toffee, vanilla and cinnamon.

Buffalo Trace Bourbon

Classicly styled Bourbon. Flavours of toffee apples, chocolate raisins, vanilla, oak and cinnamon.

Eagle Rare 10 Year Old

A smooth yet richly flavoured bourbon with lots of sweet oak flavours.

Jack Daniels

Lots of spice, vanilla, tropical banana and pineapple flavours.

Jefferson Reserve

A small batch bourbon with a lovely mix of fruit, candy and spice flavours.

Sazerac Rye

Vibrant and fruity with a lip-smacking freshness and some typically prickly rye grain.

Woodford Reserve

Rich and spicy with some minty rye notes and toasty oak finish.

George T Stagg

Underlying notes of dates, tobacco, dark berries, spearmint and a hint of coffee round out the palate.

Stagg Jr.

This is a robust full strength and unfiltered whiskey that shares some of the flavours of the harder to find and more expensive George T Stagg.

William Larue Weller

The only wheated bourbon in Buffalo Trace's range. Sweet fruit notes, strong vanilla undertone and sharp spicy tones, with a cinnamon finish.

Makers Mark

Unusual in that no rye is used as part of the mash. Instead red winter wheat is used, along with corn and malted barley.

Jack Daniels Single Cask

A carefully selected single cask of JD chosen from the company's vast stocks.

Pappy Van Winkle 15 Year-Old

High-wheat content in the mash bill. Buttery with caramel richness, and the softest, juiciest oak imaginable.
